

ALEKSANDAR MATOVSKI

Department of National Security Affairs • Naval Postgraduate School
Glasgow Hall, Room 319 • 1 University Circle • Monterey, CA 93943 USA
aleksandar.matovski@nps.edu • aleksandarmatovski.com

ACADEMIC APPOINTMENTS

---

Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA Assistant Professor	2020-
Williams College, Department of Political Science, Williamstown, MA Visiting Assistant Professor	2019-2020
Mellon Postdoctoral Fellow	2017-2019
Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA Center Associate	2017-
Postdoctoral Fellow	2016-2017
Hoover Institution, Stanford University, Stanford, CA W. Glenn Campbell and Rita Ricardo-Campbell National Fellow and the Bittson National Fellow	2015-2016

EDUCATION

---

Cornell University, Department of Government, Ithaca, New York PhD in Government	2015
M.A. in Government Fields: Comparative Politics and Political Methodology	2012
King's College London, London, United Kingdom M.A. in War Studies	2004
Saints Cyril and Methodius University, Skopje, North Macedonia B.A. in Law, International Law Major Summa cum Laude , with University Honors	2002
Additional Training: Inter-University Consortium for Political and Social Research Summer Program University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan Maximum Likelihood Estimation, Panel Data, Event History, and Time Series Analysis	2009

BOOK

---

Popular Dictatorships: Crises, Mass Opinion and the Rise of Electoral Authoritarianism

(Cambridge University Press, 2021)

Does popular appeal play an important role in the rise and endurance of authoritarian regimes? Based on a cross-national analysis of regime transitions and a comparative study of the prototypical case of Russia, I show that electoral autocracies – the most widespread type of non-democracy today – are largely the product of distinct opinion currents that emerge in the wake of profound political, economic and security crises. I demonstrate that in such contexts, incumbents with a reputation for effective, strong-armed rule, gain decisive advantages in popular appeal over their competitors. This allows them to establish and sustain authoritarian rule through the ballot box and with minimal resort to coercion, thus conferring a veneer of electoral legitimacy. Fear of renewed instability, in turn, deter voters from challenging the regime through voting and public protest, enabling even poorly performing autocracies to survive. This legitimization strategy has a key limitation, however: electoral authoritarianism becomes unnecessary both when it succeeds and when it fails in its mission of stabilization. To maintain popular consent to their rule, I argue that electoral autocracies must therefore sustain, or even manufacture crises that justify their existence – a dynamic recently exemplified by Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.

- Reviewed in Perspectives on Politics (by Gulnaz Sharafutdinova) and Eurasian Geography and Economics (by Vladimir Gel'man)

PUBLICATIONS

---

Articles

“How Putin’s Regime Survivalism Drives Russian Aggression,” The Washington Quarterly 46, No. 2 (2023): 7-25.

- Lead article

“Strategic Intelligence and International Crisis Behavior” Security Studies 29, No. 5. (2020): 964-990.

“It’s the Stability, Stupid! How the Quest to Restore Order After the Soviet Collapse Shaped Russian Popular Opinion.” Comparative Politics 50, No.2 (2018): 347-368.

“The Attitudinal Roots of Electoral Authoritarianism.” Perspectives on Europe 43, No.1 (2013): 136-140.

“Between Ohrid and Dayton: The Future of Macedonia’s Framework Agreement” (with Sašo Ordanoski). Südost Europa Mitteilungen (Journal of the Southeast Europe Association) 47, No.4 (2007): 46-59.

Book Chapters

“The Logic of Vladimir Putin’s Popular Appeal.” In Citizens & the State in Authoritarian Regimes: Comparing Russia & China, edited by Valerie Bunce, Karrie Koesel and Jessica Chen Weiss, 217-249. New York: Oxford University Press, 2020.

“A Tale of the Two Balkan Models of Conflict Resolution” (with Sašo Ordanoski). In The Balkan Prism: A Retrospective by Policy Makers and Analysts, edited by Joanna Deimel and Wim van Meurs, 155-168. Munich: Otto Sagner Publishing House, 2007.

“Assessment of Regional Security Threats and Challenges in the Western Balkans: The View from Macedonia.” In Study on the Assessment of Regional Security Threats and Challenges in the Western Balkans, edited by István Gyarmati and Darko Stančić, 99-114. Geneva: Center for Democratic Control of Armed Forces (DCAF), 2007.

Working Papers

“Are Hybrid Regimes Especially Prone to Initiate Diversionary Conflict?”

This article examines the link between the spread of electoral authoritarianism and international conflict. The paper’s cross-national analysis finds that electoral autocracies are the regime type most prone to initiate militarized international disputes when challenged by mass protests at home – a phenomenon that has become a major, but still largely underappreciated source of global conflict.

“What Drives the Sino-Russian Alignment? The Logic of Moscow’s and Beijing’s Strategic Convergence and its Implications”

This paper proposes a new framework for analyzing the growing strategic alignment between Russia and China, which emphasizes concerns about regime survival of the Russian and Chinese autocracies as the main drivers of their rapprochement – trumping external threats, geopolitical considerations and shared ideologies.

“Faking Turnout, Not Loyalty: How the Hidden Demobilization of the Citizenry Helped Russia’s Electoral Autocracy Maintain Dominance at the Polls.”

Analyzing a unique set of list experiments, the article shows that the hidden demobilization of Russia’s electorate helped Vladimir Putin to secure a landslide victory in the 2012 presidential election despite the unprecedented protest wave that preceded it.

“Does Fear of Instability Sustain Popular Support for Electoral Authoritarianism? Comparative Evidence from Post-Communist Russia.”

This article argues that even poorly performing authoritarian regimes can maintain substantial electoral advantages and genuine popular support when there is widespread fear that their replacement will lead to greater turmoil. The article tests this theory on the paradigmatic Russian case, using evidence from the Russia Election Study panel surveys for 1996 and 2000.

“Why Minorities Rebel? Process, Structure and Opportunity in the Contentious Mobilization of Ethnic Groups”

Based on a dynamic model of conflict, this paper shows that even poorly resourced and structurally disadvantaged ethnic insurgencies can spread if they are able to sustain a steady stream of attacks or provoke indiscriminate reprisals from the authorities.

Book Reviews

“How Does the Weak Strongman Stay in Power? Exposing the Roots of Vladimir Putin’s Rule in Russia.” Asia Policy 29, no. 3 (2022): 181-185.

Policy Papers and Commentary

“Why Would Putin Invade Ukraine?” The Washington Post. Jan. 16, 2021.

“Trump Claims He Wants Closer Ties with Russia. Here Are 3 Reasons That Won’t Fly.” The Washington Post. May 17, 2017.

“All Quiet on the Balkan Front” (with Norman M. Naimark). Hoover Digest. Winter 2017.

“Introduction: Special Issue on Kosovo and the Perspectives of the Balkan Region,” Forum Analytica, Issue 10/11 (2008): 4-11.

“Macedonia: A Crisis Nobody Wants to Notice” (with Sašo Ordanoski). Forum Analytica, Issue 10/11 (2008): 97-109.

“Macedonia After Bucharest: Avoiding Another European Failure in the Balkans.” European Union Institute for Security Studies Opinion. June 13, 2008.

“Radicalism and the Bumpy Road Ahead: What is Kosovo’s Violence Potential?” Policy Paper. Forum-Centre for Strategic Research and Documentation. November 2004.

“The Case of the Thessaloniki-Skopje Pipeline Extension: The Past, Present and the Future.” Policy Paper. Forum-Centre for Strategic Research and Documentation. July 2004.

“Russia After 15 Years of Transition: The Great Power in a Small Package.” Forum Magazine. No.150. (2004): 36-43 (in Macedonian).

“Russian Energy, Geopolitics and the Balkans: Opportunities and Limits for Expansion.” Policy Paper. Forum-Centre for Strategic Research and Documentation. May 2004.

“The European Energy Security Policy.” Euro Dialogue No. 2. July (2002): 193-225. (in Macedonian).

“The European Common Foreign and Defense Policy: The Second Pillar of the EU or the Second Pillar of NATO?” (with Dejan Micković) Euro Dialogue No. 1 (2002): 89-141. (in Macedonian).

RESEARCH GRANTS

---

Principal Investigator. “Russia’s Strategic Recalibration After the Ukraine Conflict: Implications for the Two Near-Peer Competitors Strategic Environment” (with Clay Moltz and Alexandra Sukalo). Naval Research Program, U.S. Department of Defense, 2023.

Principal Investigator. “Stabilizing Trilateral Deterrence and Great Power Competition in the Wake of the Ukraine Conflict” (with Jeffrey Larsen, Clay Moltz, and Christopher Twomey). Naval Research Program, U.S. Department of Defense, 2023.

Principal Investigator. “Implications of Two Peer Nuclear-Armed Adversaries on U.S. Deterrence Strategy and the Future of Arms Control Agreements” (with Jeffrey Larsen, Mikhail Tsypkin, and Christopher Twomey). Naval Research Program, U.S. Department of Defense, 2022.

FELLOWSHIPS AND AWARDS

---

Mellon/ACLS Dissertation Completion Fellowship , American Council of Learned Societies	2014-2015
Sage Fellowship , Department of Government, Cornell University	2008-2009 2013-2014
Mario Einaudi Graduate Fellowship for dissertation field research in Russia, Einaudi Foundation and the Cornell University Institute for European Studies	2012
Research Travel Grant for field research in Russia, Cornell Graduate School	2012
Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowship (FLAS) Summer Fellowship for Intensive Russian Language Study at the Moscow State University	2012

Pre-dissertation Research Fellowship for field research in Russia, Council of European Studies, Columbia University	2012
Foreign Language and Area Studies Fellowship (FLAS) Academic Year Fellowship for Russian Language Study at Cornell University	2011-2012
Open Society Institute Global Supplementary Grant	2008
Fulbright Foreign Student Program Award for graduate study in the US (declined)	2007
Fulbright Fellowship for the 2005 Study of the United States Institute , University of Delaware	2005
UK Foreign and Commonwealth Office Chevening Scholarship for graduate study in the United Kingdom	2002-2003
Golden Coin and Certificate of Merit for the highest achieving graduates for 2001-2002, Saints Cyril and Methodius University	2002
26th of July–Frank Manning Award for outstanding academic performance, Saints Cyril and Methodius University	2002
Golden Justinian Award for top ranking law student 1997-2001 , Saints Cyril and Methodius University	2002

SELECT INVITED TALKS AND PODCASTS (last 5 years)

---

“Popular Dictatorships: How Putin’s Strongman Legitimation Fuels Russia’s War in Ukraine” Stockholm Institute for Transition Economics (SITE), Apr. 17, 2023.

“Does Mass Protest Make Electoral Autocracies More Belligerent?” The Postcommunist Politics Workshop, the Elliott School of International Affairs, George Washington University, October 20, 2022

“Popular Dictatorships - Electoral Authoritarianism, Putin’s Popularity, the Utility of Crisis, & Domestic Legitimation as a Driver of Russia’s invasion of Ukraine.” War in Ukraine: Update from Kyiv podcast series at Flinders University, Australia, August 7, 2022.

“The Drivers of Russian Conduct,” presented at the “Rising Autocracy Means Declining Democracy? Impacts to Stability and the International Order” panel at the 2022 U.S. Strategic Command Deterrence Symposium, July 28, 2022.

“Putin’s Russia and the Challenge of Authoritarianism,” presented at the Summer Institute in American Foreign Policy, Williams College, June 28, 2022.

“The Peril of Elected Strongmen”, TEDx Talk, York School, Monterey, May 5, 2022

“Putinism, Russian Nationalism and the War in Ukraine,” Religion in Praxis podcast series, Lund University, Sweden, April 21, 2022.

“The Russian Invasion of Ukraine,” presented at the International Center for Advanced & Comparative EU-Russia/NIS Research-Vienna podcast series, March 29, 2022.

“The Domestic Sources of Russia’s Aggression in Ukraine,” presented at the “Ukrainathon: 24-hour Marathon of Expert Lectures on Topics Related to Russia’s Invasion of Ukraine,” PONARS Eurasia, George Washington University, March 16, 2022.

“The Potential Market Impact of the Russia-Ukraine War,” Center on National Security, Fordham University School of Law, March 4, 2022.

“Tracing Russia’s (Post-Pandemic) Future: Public Opinion and the Crisis of Late Putinism,” PONARS Eurasia Webinar series, George Washington University, May 27, 2020.

CONFERENCE PARTICIPATION (p=paper, d=discussant)

---

American Political Science Association (2023/p, 2019/p, 2017/p, 2016/p, 2015/p, 2014/p, 2011/p), Midwest Political Science Association (2023/p,d, 2022/p,d, 2015/p, 2013/p,d), Association for Slavic, East European & Eurasian Studies (2017/p), Association for the Study of Nationalities (2019/d), International Studies Association (2013/p), International Conference of Europeanists (2014/p).

TEACHING

---

Graduate

Instructor: NS 3401: Contemporary Politics of Russia. Department of National Security Affairs, Naval Postgraduate School.

Instructor: NS 3720: European Security Institutions. Department of National Security Affairs, Naval Postgraduate School.

Instructor NS 3710: Government and Security in Western Europe. Department of National Security Affairs, Naval Postgraduate School.

Undergraduate

Instructor (Spring 2020): PSCI 204: Introduction to Comparative Politics. Department of Political Science, Williams College.

Instructor (Fall 2019): PSCI 363: Protest Movements in Global Politics. Department of Political Science, Williams College.

Instructor (Spring 2018, Spring 2019, Spring 2020): PSCI 303: Authoritarian Politics. Department of Political Science, Williams College.

Instructor (Fall 2017, Fall 2018, Fall 2019): PSCI/RUSSA 286: Russian Politics under Vladimir Putin. Department of Political Science, Williams College.

NON-ACADEMIC PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

---

Director of Studies, Forum Center for Strategic Research and Documentation, Skopje, North Macedonia 2006-2008

Consultant, M6 Educational Center, Skopje, North Macedonia 2007-2008

National Security Advisor, Government of the Republic of North Macedonia, Skopje, North Macedonia 2004-2006

Political and Military Advisor, Ministry of Defense of the Republic of North Macedonia, Skopje, North Macedonia 2003-2004

Research Associate, Eurodialogue Project, Skopje, North Macedonia 2001-2002

Policy Analyst, Study and Analysis Group, Ministry of Defense of the Republic of North Macedonia, Skopje, North Macedonia 2001

Research Assistant, Forum Center for Strategic Research and Documentation, Skopje, North Macedonia 2000-2001

PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES AND SERVICE

---

Faculty Search Committee, Department of National Security Affairs, Naval Postgraduate School, 2021.

Referee for the Cambridge University Press, American Journal of Political Science, Nationalities Papers, Comparative Politics, Comparative Political Studies, Post-Soviet Affairs.

Member of the Editorial Committee, Reviews & Critical Commentary, Council for European Studies, Columbia University, 2013-2014.

Member of the Editorial Board, Eurodialogue, Skopje, North Macedonia, 2002.

MEDIA INTERVIEWS

---

Newsweek, The Atlantic, Deutsche Welle (DW), British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), Al Jazeera, Balkan Investigative Reporting Network (BIRN), Christian Science Monitor

ADDITIONAL RESEARCH SKILLS

---

Languages: Macedonian (native), Russian, Serbo-Croatian and Bulgarian (fluent), French (basic)

Software: STATA (advanced), R/S+ (advanced), Python (basic).

AFFILIATIONS

---

American Political Science Association (APSA)

Midwest Political Science Association (MPSA)

Association for Slavic, East European, and Eurasian Studies (ASEEES)

International Studies Association (ISA)

Association for the Study of Nationalities (ASN)